A HUGE SUCCESS

GALLOPING GOOSE NUMBER 5 RETURNS TO THE CUMBRES AND TOLTEC SCENIC RAILROAD – JUNE 2005

Galloping Goose No. 5 approaches the Big Horn Wye about 18 miles west of Antonito, Colorado.

FROM CHAMA TO ANTONITO, A RAILFAN'S DELIGHT –

Mid-June on the Cumbres & Toltec Scenic Railroad was a huge success for all of the participants in the operation of Galloping Goose No. 5 – whether they were passengers, crew, photographers, or even the C&TS employees, everyone seemed to have a great time! In the 5 days of operation each run was a sellout. Some of the runs were sold out two or three months in advance.

After an absence of five years, Galloping Goose No. 5 returned for “passenger service” between Chama, New Mexico and Antonito, Colorado through some of the most beautiful scenery in North America. As is usually the case most of our passengers wore big smiles throughout their ride.

The picture above was taken at one of the several “photo run byes” scheduled on each trip. (See additional pictures on pages 2, 3, & 4.) In all, we put over 350 miles on the Goose but she “ran like a top” the whole time.
